

We are looking to recruit an experienced lighting/event technician with experience in professional stage and show lighting to provide lighting tech support at our headquarter office in Kerkrade, The Netherlands, as well as out in the field.

We're a world-leading producer of professional lighting solutions and one of the fastest growing companies in the entertainment lighting industry. Our market share is expanding and our support team along with it.

You will work as part of a small team consisting of tech support and service personnel. Your main responsibilities will be to provide technical support to our customers, as well as assisting with projects and installations. The position also encompasses working in the Elation showroom, as well as at lighting industry trade shows. You will also be expected to demo products to key customers, both at the Elation facility and externally.

Experience in professional stage and show technics is indispensable. You should have expert technical knowledge of lighting operation, including lighting programming, and must be able to proficiently operate a lighting desk. You should have a broad knowledge of entertainment lighting products, including the lighting tools required to successfully run a show. You should also be skilled at troubleshooting and repairing problems.

You will be based at our office in Kerkrade, The Netherlands – Elation Professional's European Headquarters. In order to offer the support our customers and projects require and expect, you must be flexible concerning mobility and working hours. You will be expected to travel to and offer support at trade fairs throughout Europe as required.

You must have a passion for this industry and be looking to grow with us. We offer an exciting and diverse job with plenty of opportunity for growth and development in one of the entertainment lighting industry's most diverse companies.
