

We are looking to recruit an experienced technical sales person for professional lighting and video systems to further enhance and strengthen our existing team and support our customers worldwide.

Our market share is expanding and our support team needs to expand as well. You will work as part of a small team consisting of sales representatives and tech support & service personnel and will be responsible for the care of our customers, as well as assist with projects and installations. The position encompasses working on trade shows as well as in the Elation showroom. You will also be expected to demo products to key customers, also at their facility.

Experience in professional stage and show technics is indispensable. In addition, you should have technical expert knowledge and skills in sales and support.

You will be based at our office in Kerkrade, The Netherlands - Elation Professional's European Headquarters. In order to offer the support our customers and projects require and expect, you must be flexible concerning mobility and working hours. You will be expected to travel to and offer support at trade fairs throughout Europe as required.

You must have a passion for this industry and be looking to grow with us.

We offer an exciting and diverse job with plenty of opportunity for growth and development in one of the entertainment lighting industry's most diverse companies.
